

Dear all,

As you may be aware, this Friday marks 75 years since VE (Victory in Europe) Day. Unfortunately due to current circumstances we are all having to adapt our plans for celebration a little, but there are lots of helpful resources and ideas online at <https://ve-vjday75.gov.uk/get-involved/>

If you're home schooling right now, there's posters and bunting that you can download at <https://ve-vjday75.gov.uk/toolkit/> for your children to colour and make. There's also some information and links to lots of educational resources, and a competition set by Historian and Presenter Dan Snow that children can enter.

Being at home doesn't mean we can't celebrate – and there's some fantastic ideas for home parties online at <https://ve-vjday75.gov.uk/plan-your-ve-day-party/> from food suggestions to the perfect post-war playlist. English Heritage have some great suggestions too – including their Dance for VE Day party pack, so you can perfect your lockdown lindy hop.

We'd love to see what you're all getting up to around the South Hams and West Devon, so please do share your videos, photos and suggestions with us. Have you mastered Prue's muscovado flapjacks? Is your bunting better than everyone else's? Are you enjoying a socially distant street party? Well, don't keep it to yourself, send it over!

We hope you all have a fantastic time celebrating this historic occasion, and we look forward to seeing what you've all been up to!
