The above table, from 'The Hundred Of Plympton In Early Times', shows Domesday names and statistics.

Brisestone was one of the variants of our modern spelling
